Information on this Site

Whilst we make every effort to ensure that the information on our Site(s) is accurate and complete, most of the information is supplied to us by you or third parties and we are not able to check the accuracy, validity or completeness of that information. We do not accept any liability arising from any inaccuracy or omission in any of the information on our Site(s) or any liability in respect of information on the Site(s) supplied by you, any other website user or any person.

What Personal Information do we collect?

Take 3 Action Academy Ltd will collect personal information from you when you register or otherwise use our Site(s). We may also collect information from you if you access or use our Site(s) other features or in communicating directly with us. We may process data including all the personal information provided by you when registering, completing or updating your registration, bookings, forms, details or profile and when using our Site(s). We collect information about you to process your order, manage your account and, if you agree, to email you about other products and services we think may be of interest to you.

Please note that you should never include any personal data on your profile that you would wish to remain private.

Information Submitted by You

We will use information supplied by you (including, without limitation, sensitive personal data) to aid the promotion, reviewing and providing Services and associated administrative functions made through this Site(s). This involves us among other things, processing and storing information (including, without limitation, sensitive personal data) and passing or making available online such information to the Teaching Instructors and Assistants, companies or third parties assisting us in the process of providing Services. We may collect and aggregate information with selected third parties. You consent to us using the information provided by you (including, without limitation, sensitive personal data) in each of these ways.

We will process any data which you provide in completing the online registration or application forms and any further forms, assessments or personal details, which you complete or provide to us when using the Site(s) in accordance with UK data protection legislation.

Transfer outside of the EEA: Personal information comprising your details may be accessed through the Site(s) by third parties outside the European Economic Area (“EEA”). This could happen for instance if we were to provide a Service at a studio or location outside the EEA or if any of our servers are based outside the EEA. By registering and using the Site(s), you consent to this transfer.

If you have provided us with personal information, it is your responsibility to ensure that it is correct and up to date. This will enable us to provide you with the best service. Please contact us as soon as possible if you believe that any information we are holding on you is incorrect or incomplete, at: hello@take3action.com

Other Website Links

Our Site(s) may contain links to other websites. However, once you have used these links to leave our Site(s), you should note that we do not have any control over that other website. Therefore, we cannot be responsible for the protection and privacy of any information which you provide whilst visiting such sites and such sites are not governed by our Privacy Policy. You should exercise caution and look at the privacy policy applicable to the website in question.

Website Analytics

An IP address is a number which is automatically assigned to your computer whenever you access the internet. When you access our Site(s) we will log your IP address. We generally only use IP addresses to analyse trends, administer our Site(s), track general movements and gather broad demographic information for aggregate use, or when investigating possible criminal activity. However, we do link IP addresses to other information which could identify the user, for instance when assessing applications from new, re-joining and renewing members. They will also be used to ascertain where a member may be attempting to seek or misuse the ordering process, where applicable.

Cookies

Cookies are pieces of information that are stored on your computer's hard drive by your web browser. They are widely used in order to make websites work more efficiently, as well as to provide information to the owners of the website. For further details, please read our 'Cookie Policy'.

Our use of cookies

We use cookies to help deliver the Service to you, this includes keeping you signed in, remembering searches, analysing bugs or service issues and the smooth operation of other features.

When someone visits the Service, we use third-party services, including but not limited to Google Analytics, to collect cookies regarding visitors' behaviour patterns. We do this to find out things such as the number of visitors to the various parts of the Service. If you do not want Google Analytics to collect and use information about your use of the Service, then you can install an opt-out in your web browser.

We do not make, and do not allow Google, or similar to make, any attempt to find out the identities of those visiting our Service. If we do want to collect personal data through our Service, we will be upfront about this. We will make it clear when we collect personal data and will explain what we intend to do with it.

For further information on how Google Analytics collects and processes this information see here:

How do you restrict or delete cookies?

If you wish to restrict or block cookies set by the Service, or indeed any other website, you can do this through your browser settings. The Help function within your browser should tell you how. Alternatively, you may wish to visit www.aboutcookies.org which contains comprehensive information on how to do this on a wide variety of browsers. You will also find details on how to delete cookies from your computer as well as more general information about cookies.

Please be aware that restricting cookies will impact the functionality of a website.
